CAFE in the Classroom

Teachers know assessing young readers involves more than determining a reading level and moving them onto the next. Yet all too often, assessment systems don't provide much information beyond determining a child's reading level. Gail Boushey and Joan Moser (authors of The Daily Five and The CAFE Book) developed the CAFE assessment system to help elementary students understand and master different strategies used by successful readers.

CAFE is an acronym for Comprehension, Accuracy, Fluency, and Expanding Vocabulary. Gail and Joan developed this system linking assessment to daily workshop routines. The heart of CAFE is a series of procedures within literacy workshops that enable even the youngest readers to self-monitor their progress and chart their goals. The program includes goal-setting with students in individual conferences, posting of goals on a whole-class board, developing small group instruction based on clusters of students with similar goals, and targeting whole-class instruction based on emerging student needs.

Each participant will leave with a resource binder, CD of templates and workshop suggestions, and a DVD with over 80 minutes of individual, small-group, and whole-class examples of CAFE with students who have a range of needs and goals. Gail and Joan will share video clips of the programs in action, so participants can see how individual children work with their teachers to set goals and post them, and then how the teacher uses the information from individual conferences to plan small-group and whole-class instruction.

Workshop Descriptions

Simply Beautiful Classroom Design

This new workshop will leave you with dozens of ideas for redesigning your classroom to support literacy learning. Joan and Gail combine brain research with the best of literacy learning theories to create classroom environments that are warm, calm, and purposeful. The day-long event includes presentations by "The Sisters" on basic principles of classroom design, Franki Sibberson (Co-author of Still Learning to Read) on organizing classroom libraries and book displays for book browsing in the digital age, and Brenda Power (Founder of Choice Literacy) on clutter-busting tips from K–6 teachers throughout the country. Participants will leave with a folder of print resources and two DVDs—Simply Room Tours (featuring K–6 classrooms from throughout the country), and Simply Organized (highlighting classroom library and storage area makeovers by "The Sisters"). This is the perfect summer event to jumpstart your classroom organization for the fall.

Hotel Discounts

All events take place at beautiful hotels and resorts with deeply discounted rates for participants of $85–$139 per room depending upon locale. Registrants will receive discount code and specific location rates when applications are received.

Because of limited capacity and our desire to serve as many schools as possible, no more than 12 registrants per district for these workshops will be allowed. Payment must accompany form to receive a confirmed slot—no exceptions.

Look what participants are saying about previous CAFE in the Classroom Workshops:

Inspiring! The timing has me recharged for the new school year. It puts everything in perspective about assessment driving instruction.

—Literacy Specialist from Nebraska

Awesome— very user friendly and appropriate for the way education is moving today. The interactions when we had specific questions relating to our classrooms and the small size of the workshop were excellent.

—Teacher from Oregon

This was well-organized, with excellent presenters. I felt more like I was having a casual conversation with colleagues—it was highly energizing and the giveaways were such a nice touch.

—Grade Level Team Leader from Ohio
