

Quotes about Literacy Leadership and Change

I suppose that leadership at one time meant muscle; but today it means getting along with people.

Indira Gandhi

Every thinker puts some portion of an apparently stable world in peril.

John Dewey

No-talents are threatened by talent. That's why no-talents can't wait for an opportunity to teach talented people "a lesson." And tell them that it's for their own good.

Pauline Kael

Progress might have been all right once, but it's gone on too long.

Ogden Nash

Holopis kuntal baris: Indonesian phrase uttered to gain extra strength when carrying heavy objects.

Howard Rheingold

Perception is strong and sight weak. In strategy it is important to see distant things as if they were close and to take a distanced view of close things.

Miyamoto Musashi

The only person who is educated is the one who has learned how to learn – and change.

Carl Rogers

When people don't agree on the big things, the little things take on enormous significance.

Shelley Harwayne

True education flowers at the point when delight falls in love with responsibility. If you love something, you want to look after it. Common sense has much to learn from moonshine.

Philip Pullman

You will never be satisfied with what you do.

Fay Weldon
